Hospital and Healthcare Infrastructures

We have been accumulating experience since the seventies in constructing some of the largest healthcare facilities in the country. It is these decades of work that make the ELEVO Group, today, one of the Portuguese companies with the most extensive experience and know-how in the domain of design, project execution and construction of hospital facilities, all of these conceived and executed in light of the most evolved techniques and processes and that attest to the capacity and competency of this Group, as well as to the high standards of construction quality of the company.

Assuming itself as a reference at the national level, the ELEVO Group earned on its own merits a prominent place amongst the best European top constructors in this market segment. It is this prestige that is already being recognised on African soil, where so much needs to be done in the Healthcare domain and where the ELEVO Group has been able to put its know-how at the service of the Angolan capital community.
